Campers arrived bright and early to Camp Barnes, excitedly waiting for the gates to open at 10:30 am. While avoiding rain puddles and putting on their rain jackets, campers moved into their cabins and made their beds. Once the bus arrived, campers began reuniting and getting back into the camp spirit. After a delicious lunch of chicken patties and smiley fries, campers learned the rules of their cabins and headed to orientation. Each cabin arrived to the stations excited to play the new minute-to-win-it games. Once cabins finished Oreo 2 da face and Squirtona 500, campers came to the White Top to see who won the 2018 Orientation Games. Cabin 6 was victorious. After the exhilarating new orientation games, we headed to people meetings. With our returning Echo and temporary Voice, each group began preparing their song, skits, and yells. After swimming and kayaking, everyone enjoyed a yummy dinner of mac and cheese and shrimp poppers. Then everyone finalized their song, skits, and yells; and after reflections and flag lowering had a fantastic snack. Campers headed into Council Circle with positivity, ready to see who their Voices and Echoes would be. After an excellent night filled with glitter, turtle crawling, and bird feeding, every group said a loud How-How to their new Voices and Echoes.

Thought for the Day

“Legacy is not leaving something for people, it’s leaving something in people.”
Toasty Tuesday

On Tuesday, campers awoke to the familiar sound of the camp siren and a slightly damp camp. After everyone’s chores were competed, breakfast was served. Following breakfast was AM excitement, where campers stretched and got pumped up for their first full day at camp. They were then sent off to their classes. Assembly rolled around where the results of cabin check were announced. The best cabin in camp was cabin four, followed by the best girl cabin, cabin eight. After campers opened their mail, a delicious lunch of cheese steaks was served. A fun game of capture the flag was played, followed by people meetings. During first rec., the Thunderbirds triumphed in the game of volleyball against the Bears. While the stakes were high on all fields, the campers of the Turtles and Moon and Stars enjoyed their free rec. period. During second recreation period, the Turtles won a game of Volleyball against the Moon & Stars. A ‘Taco Tuesday’ dinner was devoured by hungry campers, which was followed by a final people meeting. Everyone was sent to a very thoughtful reflection led by the first-year campers. Canteen was enjoyed and a game of ‘Ride that Pony’ was played, and then it was off to Council Circle! At Council Circle, the first-year campers were highlighted in many ways throughout the night, sharing scouting reports, leading songs, and starring in skits. All in all, Tuesday was a great day for all.

Thought for the Day

“Though our branches grow in different directions, our roots remain as one.”
Wonderful Wednesday

Wednesday started off with a downpour of rain in the middle of the night. Although it was hard to sleep, campers still woke up with enough energy to start another adventure at 4-H camp, starting with breakfast sandwiches and fruit. After doing some exhilarating line-dancing, campers and counselors separated for the first classes. The second class allowed campers to participate in a variety of activities from trust walks to learning how to serve. After this, campers had a quick mail time filled with lots of singing. After lunch and a much-needed rest period, campers headed to pictures. After ten “one mores,” campers headed to the relay races. Moon & Stars won the game and the Turtles were victorious in an epic game of Bring Me. Campers began working on their vacation-themed skits. Turtles won their second game in a row in volleyball and Moon & Stars beat the Bears. Everyone headed to the BBQ where campers learned the Spirit Check and were served by the Voices and Echoes. After a big How-How to the cooks, campers enjoyed ice cream and headed to people meetings. Campers enjoyed performing their skits down at the waterfront, and everyone had a great laugh. Finally, campers headed to the dance with DJ KSwizzle and The Hollintor where they danced to God’s Plan and John Wall. After a fun multiplication dance and an intense game of musical knees, campers danced to the final four. At the end of the dance, campers reflected on how fast life goes and then headed to bed.

Terrific Thursday

Campers woke up bright and early to a long siren and got ready for breakfast. After a short shower line, campers enjoyed a delicious breakfast of French toast sticks and sausage. At AM Excitement, campers participated in a massive massage circle and played a rousing game of ride that pony. Next, the campers happily made their way to their first class. From battleships in Cannoning and Kayaking to meditating in Mindfulness and Yoga, campers were ready for another adventure. After a delicious lunch campers headed to a water day spectacular where there was a water slide and time in the pool. Then campers headed to a people meeting where they worked on their talent and all around great skits for that night. During first rec, the Thunderbirds and Moon & Stars were in an intense battle on the court. The Moon & Stars came out victorious. The next game was the Turtles VS the Bears. The Turtles won and ended the week with a 3-0 record (we heard all about it at Council Circle). After some delicious meatball subs and a quick nap, we went to our second people meeting. After we went to canteen and played some “honey do you love me,” we finished off the day with a great Council Circle filled with challenges, talents, and singing.

Thought for the Day

“People will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.”
As the last day of camp arrived, the campers woke to the sound of the siren. Campers were dragging slowly from their cabins, got showers, finished up cabin duties and then headed to breakfast followed by AM excitement and classes. Lunch was delicious, and campers made their way to rest period where we all got extra sleep! After getting some much needed rest, everyone made their way to people meetings which was filled with teaching all the traditional songs, skits, and yells for High Council. After people meetings, campers got painted to support the volleyball game that included the Big Feet vs. the Voices & Echoes. The entire camp wanted the Voices & Echoes to win and were ecstatic when they won in the third game. Campers took extra time to look nice for the Friday dinner. After a delicious dinner that consisted of turkey, mashed potatoes, gravy, and rolls, all the campers made their way to the waterfront to take pictures with their dinner dates, as well as with their friends. Another people meeting came and all the groups were ready to start the night. After having reflections, flag lowering, and canteen, campers got on their bug spray and lined up for the night’s High Council. As the night was winding down, the emotions were high and the tears began to flow. After Council Circle there was a slide show of pictures from the week and after everyone gave their hugs, it was time for the campers to get some sleep.
